PRESS RELEASE - FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Farmers Cooperative Company (FC) Announces Recipients for Freshman in Agricultural Business Scholarship

Farnhamville, IA - Farmers Cooperative Company recently named fifteen Iowa State University students as recipients of the $750 Farmers Cooperative Company Scholarship for freshman in Agricultural Business.

Farmers Cooperative Company is committed to providing scholarships to students pursuing an education in agriculture. According to Roger Koppen, Farmers Cooperative Company's CEO, "Farmers Cooperative Company is committed to supporting the youth of agriculture. It is critical to keep good, young people in the industry by providing them opportunities such as scholarships and internships."

This scholarship is awarded to college freshman majoring in Agricultural Business who have a minimum cumulative high school grade point average of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale and who graduated in the top 25% of their high school class. Recipients demonstrate agriculture leadership through involvement in agriculture organizations. Preference is given to applicants interested in a career in grain marketing, commodity merchandizing, agronomics, elevator management, or grain marketing analysis in a rural area.

Farmers Cooperative Company (FC) has corporate headquarters in Farnhamville, IA and is the largest farmer-owned local agriculture cooperative in Iowa. FC serves over 5,800 members throughout their trade territory of over 1,700,000 acres. Members are served from over 50 locations by a 450+ employee team. Farmers Cooperative Company is committed to serving its members by doing for farmers what they cannot economically do for themselves, through operational excellence.
